VRS was run by many fellow college students, who wanted an efficient way of handling undetected malware in their systems. They are as follows:

1. Apoorv Bhardwaj (College Student)

'Virus Removal System is an amazing software. Though lacking in its presentation a bit, it does a great job of checking user selected software that some other anti-virus softwares failed to declare suspicious, and tell us about their malware nature.'

2. Anirudh Rao (College Student)

'VRS saved my PC from a malicious file masquerading as an .exe executable game file. I downloaded the game from a low-grade website and regularly played it. But each time the game was played the PC would start working incredibly slowly and stay that way until restart. I never properly understood what the problem was as I always thought the game caused the slowdown. My anti-virus did not detect any problem with the game. Only VRS detected that the game also installed fresh malware each time it was run which recursively made the PC go slow.'

3. Shria Deverakonda (College Student)

'Simple in its look, but monstrous in its efficiency, VRS proves to be the anti-virus software that we have all been needing. Today's malware fighters are all show but no substance. VRS is full of substance and therefore has no need to show.'
